

The best way to get your application running quickly is an experienced partner and a good implementation methodology.

Whatever size your company is, whatever industry you are in, you need a sound, proven implementation methodology.

Based on decades of experience and many implementations, AEVITAS CONSULTING develop practical methodology to help in our implementations. Our implementation methodology complemented with comprehensive set of Microsoft industry data files and best practices, you can reduce risk of implementation failure, thus protecting your investment.

This differentiates us from other vendors.

Key Benefits of implementation Methodology

- Shorten your implementation time
- Gain predictability and increase quality through a more
- standardized implementation
- Smooth Migration master data more easily to a standard Microsoft Dynamics NAV solution
- Utilize best practices to improve your business processes
- Reduce risk of implementation failure

Implementation Methodology - AEVISION

Our implement methodology involves phases, activities and deliverables. We break the implementation into phases. In each of the phases, there are activities that involve company structure, business processes, and technology. And in each activity, there are deliverables that need to be presented before we can move on to the next phase. Milestone checks will be conducted at each phase to ensure all activities and deliverables are performed and submitted respectively.

Our implementation methodology is supported by Industry-specific guidelines and Best Practices, Detailed Project Schedules, and efficient information management.

Industry-specific guidelines

We understand your industry. Together with our industry experience, we provide a comprehensive set of industry data files containing information (those that contain the same information from customer to customer within an industry), as comprehensive as industry specific peculiar processes, and as basic as country codes, currency codes, and payment terms, which can be imported automatically. With our industry specific guidelines, we will suggest improvements to your business with the industry best practices, achieve more predictable and stable implementation cycles, help facilitate easier training, and can help reduce the level of customizations to ease upgrades. Most importantly, improve your overall implementation experience.

Our Experience and Customers' Commitment

Enterprise Application Implementation requires close collaboration between us and customers. Commitment from customers is crucial to the success of any implementation.

Customer commitment, our implementation experience, methodology and working solution equate to Sharp, short, smooth, successful implementation.

To learn more about us and our implementation offerings, please contact us at www.aevitasconsulting.com/contactus